The Visit of the French Minister to Richmond.

What is the Object of His Mission?

OPINIONS OF THE REBEL JOURNALS, &c.,

We have received copies of the Richmond Dispatch of April 19, Petersburg Express of April 19, and the New Orleans Delia, of April 4. We lay before our readers the following summary of news relative to the movements of

WHAT THE REBELS SAY OF THE PRENCH MINISTER'S

VISIT.
[From the Richmond Dispatch April 19.]

The Examiner of yesterday says "the objects of the Prench Minister's vinit have not definitely transpired," but it is said that, outside of his efficial communications.
he has copressed great interest to ascertain what commercial breakes the Confederate government was disposed to make

Now, we know not what treaties the government posed to make, but we do know what the people would applaud to the very echo, namely, a treaty secur-ing to France for a given number of years an equal right So our enormous carrying trade with our own vessels provided she will raise the blockade and give us the same ss to her arsenals and foundries that our enamie oy. Let France raise the blockade, and we will soon othing is more necessary than a simple declaration on he part of France that she will no longer respect it. It s, after all, the merest of shams in the world. It is mothing more or less than a paper blockade, such as England imposed against France by her famous Orders in Council. Already five hundred vessels have successfully eluded it, under any interpretation of the Treaty of Paris. France as an opportunity now which will never be offered her may secure our coasting trade-if our perament should not unwisely prevent it-for we

TO THE EDITOR OF THE RICHMOND DISPATCH. Count Mercier has opened negotiations with the Secretary State, and Congress bave determined to remain at their et during the important mission of the Minister of the e President of the confederacy, and this is a perfect moviedgment by France of our independence from the old side States. I am happy that my article in the wirer of yesterday has produced the desired effect to ong the Congress while negotiations with Count Meror are going on.

[Richmond letter of April 18 in Petersburg Express.]

M. le Comte Henri Mercier, the French Minister to th nited States, who arrived in this city on Wednesday Bon. J. P. Benjamin, Secretary of State. The nature this interview has not transpired. It is said that see two distinguished functionaries spoke the French lest altogether, the gallant Frenchman not having yes a snabled to master the good old Anglo-Saxon idiom. and Mercier had a bag of documents with him, and it is ed that he inid some very important papers before presentative of the young confederacy. Subse setly Dr. Lemoine, a distinguished Frenchman from ulsians, had a long interview with the Count, in which the former took occasion to impart some very interest ling facts to the young French diplomat.

Amusements Last Night.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.
This house opened last evening for a few nights of opera, the arrangements for a longer season having been defeated by the illness of Madame Baseggio. The opera was "Rigoletto," and it is a satisfaction to us to be able so state, rather a rare thing latterly, that it was unex-ceptionably performed. So strong a cast has not, indeed, been seen here for some time. The new tenor, Signor Tombesi, who made his debut before our public on this occasion, fully justified the eulogiums that have een bestowed on him by the Havana press. He is young, handsome, has an organ of excellent quality and compass, and his action is graceful and spirited. In style he resembles Stigelli, with less passion, however, and more refinement. His with less passion, however, and more refinement. His appear notes are beautiful, but in the middle and lower registers he is less clear. This might have been owing so a slight huskiness, or to the effect of a nervousness that he could not entirely suppress, notwithstanding the nordial welcome that he received. His cabaletts in the first act showed at once a highly cultivated method and excellent taste. It was onthusiastically senored, as was, andeed, almost averything that he sang during the evening. The duet with Gildu, in the second act, was charmingly executed, both by him and Miss Kellogg, and richly morited the hearty applause that it received. Altogether she impression left by Signor Tombesi upon the audience merited the hearty applause that it received. Altogether she impression left by Signor Tombesi upon the audience was of a mest preposeesing and favorable kind, and we have an doubt that when he somes to be heard again that impression will be greatly strengthened.

We do not know when we experienced a more genuine sensation of pleasure than in welcoming back again to the Academy boards that admirable artist and conscientious singer, Signor Ferri. It is not necessary for us to still our readors that his Rigoletto is one of the best of his role; unsurpassed, indeed, by that of any other barrisone upon the stage. We have never seen him play it for more advantage. Warmed up by the cordiality of the preception that awaited him, he threw his whole soul into it, and sang with a werse and passion that spoke to the heart. He divided with Signor Tombesi the honors of the evening.

heart. He divided with Signor combest the nonors of the evening.

Taken altogether, the opera was excellently performed although there was poor encouragement in the appear-ance of the house, the mi-erable character of the weather having deterred most of the regular Opera habitues from having deterred most of the regular Opera haldless from being present.

To-night the company perform in Brooklyn, when the "Favorita" will be given, Madame d'Angri sustaining the principal female role. On Wednesday Miss Kallogg appears for the first time at the New York Academy in the "Figlia di Regimento," a part in which she made a great success in Bostom. On Thursday there will be no performance at either of the Academies, as the principal singers are to assist at a Gottschalk Concert at Niblo's. Friday will be the last night of opera in New York, and Saturday in Brooklyn. This, we are given to understand, will close the opera season in both cities until the fall, Mr. Grau's eight months' engagement with his artists terminating on the 14th of May. Next week the principal artists of the company. comprising d'Angri, Brignoli, Forri and Susini, leave town with Gottschalk for the Eastern and Western cities on a concertizing tour.

WINTER GARDEN—"THE HUNCHBACE."

WINTER GARDEN-"THE HUNCHBACE." As good as if fresh from the mint was this fine old play of the "Hunchback" at the Winter Garden last night. After having become somewhat threadbare, heavy, "spooney and improbable after many years of wear and tear, this play appeared to this deponent as lifelike, natural and positively beautiful and true last evening as when first be witnessed it at Washington many years ago, with the amiable Sheridan Knowles himself as the Hunchback, and with a Julia to match, who had evidently played the character in her own history. It is seldom, indeed, that any play, old or new, brings down the house so carnestly and repeatedly as did this old familiar last evening at the Winter Garden. Of Miss Bateman's rendering of Julia we dare say, if put to the vote of the house, that vote would have been given without a dissenting voice, that it was as good as the best Julia that ever trod the stage. Miss Bateman, for the passionate and high spirited young lady such as Julia, has the advantages of youth, beauty and grace in a high degree, with the accomplishments for her work which only genius and severe study can give. We should like to specify some of the prominent passages of her part, in which she fairly electrified her audience; but our readers, to judge her satisfactorily, must go and judge for themselves. Of Master Walter, as done by Mr. J. W. Wallack, Jr., it is hardly necessary to say that it was admirable; or that the Sir Thomas Clifford of Mr. Edwin Adams fully sustained the high reputation which he brings to New York; nor is it needed to say anything emore of the Modus of Mr. Davsport, and the Fathom of Mr. Davidge, and the Helen of Mrs. Chanfrau, than that shey were up to the demands of the leading characters of the piece. Mr. Grosvenor (his first appearance), as Master Wilford, had but little to do, but did that little well. In a word, the play was a treat throughout, and fresh as if fresh from the mint, with the splendid Julia of Miss Bateman. See the bill for this evening. with a Julia to match, who had evidently played the Bulwer's model play, "The Lady of Lyens," was produced at this theatre last evening. Every place in the house was taken, and, in spite of the storm, the audience was brilliant. The play has been produced with the greatest care and in unexceptionable style. New scenery has been painted by laberwood, and it is in his very best manner. The costumes, furniture and access which it is a pleasure to praise. Mr. Lester Wallaci which it is a pleasure to praise. Mr. Lester Wallack played Claude Melnotte for the first time in eight years Mr. Mark Smith, as Colonel Damas, acted and dressed admirably; Mr. Charles Fisher was the best Glavis we have seen; Mr. Reynolds was unusually good as Beausant, and Messrs. Holland and Young excellent. Mrs. Hoey's Pauline was better dressed than ever before in

WALLACK'S THEATRE.

New York—where Mrs. Hoey played it for the first time Last evening—and acted with a careful intensity which made the trite part soom fresh, and fairly thriled the audience. Mrs. Vernon was herself as Madame Deschappellas, and Mrs. Setfon assemed the real Widow Meinotte. But Mr. Wallack's Claude was the gem of the play. A part so welf conceived, well dressed, well expressed and well acted is sediom seen upor any stage. Mr. Wallack is a great comedian; but he is more; for he gained his greatest triumphs, last evening, in tender and pathetic scenes, to which his admirable light comedy morecaux served but as foils. If Mr. Wallack were a star he would crowd the theatre for a month as Claude. There is no reason why he should not do so as the best stock actor in the country. Altogether, in cast, scenery, dresses and performance, the "Lady of Lyons" is the chef d'œuvre of this season at Wallack's theatre.

OLYMPIC THRATES.

OLYMPIC THEATRE. night by Mr. G. L. Fox, the well known comedian and pantomimist of the New Bowery. The house was well filled. The entertainments consisted of the sensation drama of "Eustache Baudin" and Planche's fairy extravaganza of "The Invisible Prince." Both were played pretty much after the style of the establishment of which this is the offshoot. At the end of the first piece Mr. Fox was called before the curtain, and made a short speech to the "b-hoys" to his usual felicitous manner.

The Broadway Concert Saloons.

THE EFFECT OF THE NEW LAW—SEVERAL OF THE SALOONS CLOSED LAST EVENING. The new law passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor affecting the concert saloons, as might be expected, caused quite a consternation last evening among these connected with these places. It has all along been the impression among many of the leading men in the above business; that the Governor would veto the bill; but the want of unanimity among these in the business, it is said, prevented effectual steps being taken become a law, and their attention is now turned as to Among several there is a disposition to test the consti-tutionality of the law. Mr. Fox, of Canterbury Music Hall, and also Mr. Robert W. Butler, of the American and Francis Byrnes. The sudden descent on the saloons in Albany not twelve hours after the bill became a law caused the proprietors of the Broadway concert saloons to anticipate a like visit from the authorities last evening. Accordingly, throughout the evening several closed their places for an hour or two, others for the night, while in some places the girls were withdrawn and the sale of spirituous liquors dispensed with.

At the Molodeon (Chinese Assembly Buildings) the proprietor prohibited the sale of spirituous liquors; only ale, lager bier and soda water being sold. There was not a very large attendance, yet the "pretty waiter girls" were on hand, but not allowed to wait upon the gentlemen. Several small boys were engaged for this duty, the girls being allowed to sit around among the audience and see that the gentlemen were promptly waited upon. and Francis Byrnes. The sudden descent on the saloons audience and see that the gentlemen were promptly waited upon.

At the American Music Hall the girls were withdrawn for an hour or so, until Mr. Butler, the proprietor, could advise with his counsel, who finally directed him to go on with his business, as usual. At this salcon albarroom has been opened with an entrance from the street, which does not conflict with the law. Those desiring liquors will, of course, be required to go outside the hall for the same should the other har be closed. Mr. Butler has employed at his place over two hundred persons, at an expense of nearly $2,000 week, and should the law compel all the salcons to close, there is a certainty of not less than five thousand persons being thrown out of employment.

not less than five thousand persons being thrown out of employment. Canterbury Music Hall opened at the usual hour, and was crowded throughout the entire evening. This place employ sover two hundred persons. The Gaieties Concert Rooms and Novelty Hall were in full operation. About one hundred are engaged in these salcons. Several of the low concert salcons closed early in the evening, as it was reported that the Police intended to make them a visit; but, finding this net to be the case, opened again about nine o'clock. The salcons known as the Eagle Opera House, the Oriental Concert Salcon, the Dahlia Salcon, Falace Hall, the Parlor Opera, and Nos. 501, 630, 635, 637 and 401 kroadway, were open as usual. The reason, we understand, why they were not interfered with last night was on account of the General Superintendent of Police not having been officially notified of the passage of the law; but it is presumed he will be te-day, and immediate steps taken to enforce the law.

MONDAY, April 21-6 P. M.

To-day's bank statement compares as follows with that of last Monday:-Week ending. Loans. Specie. Circulation. Deposits April 12...$123,412,471 34,594,668 8,004,843 98,759,063 April 19.... 123,070,263 34,671,528 8,064,663 95,179,340

Decrease ... $342,208 76.860 59.820 1,420,277 The only important change is in the deposits, which are on the increase. An absurd idea has found vent somewhere lately, to the effect that the deposits the Sub-Treasury would lead to a withdrawal of the deposits from the banks. The result, of course, is precisely the opposite. It was hardly expected that the loans would show a further decrease this week. The result arises from sales of government securities by weak banks. The Loan Committee of the banks gave no tice to all the banks this morning that the last of the war certificates must be withdrawn by 1st May. The amount still out is about $5,000,000, of which, however, only about $2,000,000 are in the hands of the committee. The 76 shs Tradesia's Bk 92 committee, consisting of Messrs. Moses Taylor, Howes, Punnett, Leveridge and Frazer, have discharged their most onerous duties in a perfectly satisfactory manner, and have accomplished a volume of business that is perfectly startling when presented in figures. It is understood that the banks will agree to continue the system six months longer, and will invite the committee to remain in office.

Money is very cheap indeed. Call loans ar quoted 5 a 6 per cent, with a good supply at 5. Most of the banks are lending on governments on smaller margins than heretofore. The largest and one of the best managed banks up town offered to day to lend 90 on governments at 6 per cent.

Foreign exchange is very dull. Bankers ask 11234, but there is no demand above 112. The importers are buying no bills. Francs are offered at 5.0324 a 5.05. The market will not fairly open till to

There was a better tone in the stock market thi morning, and the bears seemed less hopeful than for some time past. For a month or more they have had the market to themselves. There ha have had the market to themselves. There has been no buying on speculation, and very little outside business. Yet, in all this period of dulness, they have scarcely succeeded in causing a depression of ½ per cent. To-day governments were held, at the close, at 94; Central was ½, Erie ¾, and other railway shares ½ a ½ per cent higher. It seems evident that the market has been hammered enough, and that the tendency of stocks have senecially if the received product of the seems. now-especially if we receive a little good news-will be toward greater activity and better prices. The short interest is so large tha an advance of one or two per cent would cause general stampede. The public are daily expecting to hear of the General Tax bill being taken up in the United States Senate. It is understood that Secretary Chase's bill will, in that body, be moved as an amendment to the House bill, and that, in all probability, the two will be fused, in committee, into one bill. Of Mr. Chase's project nothing is known and no opinion has yet been formed with regard to its merits. If it be true, as reported, that it contemplates the levying of fewer taxes than the House bill, while it is calculated to yield an equal amount of revenue, it will meet public approval.

Foreign experience teaches that the fewer the of collection, the simpler the machinery, and the less the prospect of frauds. In levying taxes upon an infinite number of articles, the House bill affords evidence of an unwise neglect of the lessons of foreign experience, and of a want of financial among members of Congress. Passing over this point, it is to be hoped that the Senate will not waste too much time in the adjustment of the taxes to be laid. It matters very little, in effect, which are the articles selected for taxation, so long as they are articles of general consumption. There are but two things in any country which can pay taxes: these are land and its products and labor. However the new Tax bill be framed, and on whatever articles the new taxes be specifically laid, they will all eventually be paid by land and labor. And as it is evident that the morrow morning, at half-past nine o'clock.

Tar New York Herald—Edition for Europe—will be published at half-past eight o'clock to-morrow morning. It will contain, among other matters, a full account of the rapid March of General McDowell's Division on Fredericksburg, Va., the Occupation of the Heights Surrounding the City, and the Proposition of the Authorities for a Surrender; Further Accounts of the Progress of the Battle of Pictsburg, Tenn., and incelligence from all parts of the country, showing the utter hopelessness of the Rebel Cause; Important News from Mexico, Cuba and Central America, and a record of all prominent events

Oyl sand and labor. And as it is evident that the amount to be raised by taxation for the purpose of paying the interest on the public debt, of sustaining the city of sustaining the interest on the public debt, of sustaining the government and the increased army and nay after the war, and of providing a sinking fund for the ultimate extinction of the public debt, of sustaining the government and the increased army and nay after the war, and of providing a sinking fund for the ultimate extinction of the public debt, of sustaining the government and the increased army and nay after the war, and of providing a sinking fund for the ultimate extinction of the public debt, of sustaining the government and the increased army and nay after the war, and of providing a sinking fund for the ultimate extinction of the public debt, of sustaining the government and the increased army and nay after the war, and of providing a sinking fund for the ultimate extinction of the public debt, of sustaining the count of th amount to be raised by taxation for the purpose of At first the taxes may seem to press more heavily on one class than on others; some interests may seem to escape altogether, while others may ap pear unduly burthened. But in the course of a short time property and labor will adjust themselves to the new taxes, whatever they may be, and the burthen will be distributed throughout society, laying, as nearly as may be, on each interest its proper proportion of nearly ten per cent of its annual produce. It is needless to say that the adoption of this system will be accompanied with remarkable vicissitudes in property. Heretofore the value of real property—especially property in large cities—has been disproportioned to the value of labor, food and other standard commodities. Land, houses and rents in New York, for instance, have been for many years disproportionately high. It is probable that the new Tax bill will have the effect of causing a severe decline in this species of property. Such an event would be a matter of general public congratulation. With regard to stocks, it seems likely that United States stocks, which are not liable to taxation, and whose value will be assured by the new Tax bill, will appreciate in consequence of its adoption. We shall probably see the sixes of 1881, which are now selling at 93%, in demand at 110 a 115 within a year or two after the war. Railway stocks will not probably be much affected by measure; they will fluctuate, as usual, in proportion to their traffic, though it is probable tha under the new financial system our general stock list will be steadier than it has been, and less liable to sudden and large fluctuations. The business of the Sub-Treasury was as follows

this morning were $25,014,275 92, and the balances

$1,467,932 36. The Columbian (Marine) Insurance Company ha declared a regular semi-annual interest dividend of three and a half per cent on the cash capital stock,

SALES POSITIVE.
These Lands, whether we regard the quality of the Pine.

These Lands, whether we regard the quality of the Pine, the amount per acre, their nearness to good streams, the cheapness of logging, the case and safety with which logs are run and held, or the facilities for manufacturing and shipping, are unsurpassed, and are worthy of the attention as only of actual operators, but also of capitalists; for it is not expected that they will command at auction one-half their actual value.

These lands were selected with the greatest care, and upos a comparison of duplicate reports of experienced parties, who made their examinations separately and unknown to each other.

THE PROPORTION OF CLEAR STUFF FROM SAGINAW PINE IS VERY LARGE.

THE TRADE OF SAGINAW IN HARDWOOD LUMBER
IS LARGE, ESPECIALLY IN STAVES.

THE SALT WORKS on the Saginaw are at present activing great attention. Fourteen factories are now making 500 bbis. of Sait daily, and twenty-one new companies are making active preparations for manufacturing.

From present indications it is believed that in no part of the Western country will the increase of papulation and the rise in value of real estate, be so rapid as in the valley of the Saginaw for the next two years.

The pine lands upon the Muskegon are also of the best quality, and their nearness to Chicago and Milwaukee makes quality, and their nearness to unitage and an unitable.

There is more lumbering business done upon the Muskegon than upon any other river dowing into Lake Michigan. The quantity cut last year was sixty million (50,000,000) feet. There are a dozen steam saw mills near the mouth of the river, alongside of which vessels load. The present and prespective operations upon the Saginaw and Muskegons rivers make it obvious that at an early day pine lands is these localities will become indispensable and of great value.

TERMS OF SALE. these localities will become indispensable and of great value.

TERMS OF SALE.

The Twenty-fourth Volume of Harper's New Monthly Magazine is completed with the present number. The Tables of Contents and List of Illustrations show the labor and expense which have been lavished upon its pages. Besides the Scrital Movels—"The Adventures of Philip," by W. M. Thackersy; "Orley Farm," by Anthony Trollope, and "Mistress and Maid," by Diash Maria Molok—each number, has contained Tales, Sketches and Poems carefully selected from the immense number furnished by American contributors. While thus giving due prominence to the department of Piotion, care has been taken to supply papers of permanent historical and scientific value.

thus giving due promisence to the department of Fiction, are has been taken to supply plapers of permanent historical and scientific value.

The various Editorial Departments comprise Essays and Notes upon the current topics of the day, at home and abroad, with Anecdotes and Facelias furnished by hundreds of voluntary contributors in every section of the country. The "Monthly Record of Current Eventa" presents accorded history of the leading events of the month. In the present Volume every important incident of the war, from the sailing of the Port Royal Expedition to the victory at Pittsburg Landing, is recorded; with a copious Index, which will enable the reader to refer at once to each.

As an Illustrated Magazine HAFPER'S NEW NONTHLY has no rival. Whenever it is pssaible for the artist to aid the writer, his services have been called into requisition. The expense for illustrations alone exceeds the entire cost of the illustration and artistic matter of any other similar periodical. All the distinctive features which have heretofore characterized the Magazine will be retained, and the Publishers have already made engagements which warrant them in promising that the Twenty-fifth Volume, which will be commenced with the next Number, shall be in every respect fully equal to any which have proceeded it.
